

M.Sc in Hotel

PROGRAMME DESCRIPTION:

This program gives special importance to student- centered learning in developing the required competences in the area of hospitality. This program provides a platform for student to further enhance the learning in acquiring special areas of interest within the hotels and resorts scope. Student will be actively involved in understanding the current issues and problems associated with the management and organizations at large and evidently the findings of the study will contribute to the hospitality field at large.

PROGRAMME OBJECTIVES:

The objective is to prepare candidates who are able to demonstrate a mastery research foundation through a systematic and rigor investigation and be able to educate the public at large.

PROGRAMME OUTCOMES:

At the end of the Masters programme the candidate should be able to:

- Observe, formulate, plan, conduct and report scientific investigations in the area of study.
- State, write, verify and justify the problem/s, concepts, theories, models, methodology, findings and discussion in the area of study.
- Synthesize and communicate information in written and verbal form.
- Demonstrate responsibilities to meet Hospitality stakeholders' needs and undertake lifelong learning and acquire the capacity to execute and manage change.