

M.Sc in Tourism

PROGRAMME DESCRIPTION:

This program gives special importance to student- centered learning in developing the required competences in the area of tourism and its related event. This program provides a platform for student to further enhance the learning in acquiring special areas of interest within the tourism scope. Student will be actively involved in understanding the current issues and problems associated with the growth of tourism industry and the outcome of the study will evidently contribute to the understanding of current tourism scenario at large.

PROGRAMME OBJECTIVES:

The objective is to prepare candidates who are able to demonstrate a mastery research foundation through a systematic and rigor investigation, and be able to educate the public at large.

PROGRAMME OUTCOMES:

At the end of the Masters programme the candidate should be able to:

- Observe, formulate, plan, conduct and report scientific investigations in the area of study.
- State, write, verify and justify the problem/s, concepts, theories, models, methodology, findings and discussion in the area of study.
- Demonstrate the synthesis of information in written and verbal communication.
- Demonstrate responsibilities to meet the governmental and non-governmental tourism sectors' needs and undertake lifelong learning and acquire the capacity to execute and manage change.